DISNEYLAND® RESORT 70TH CELEBRATION

AN EVENT YOU'LL REMEMBER FOREVER²

You're invited to join the festivities at the Disneyland® Resort 70th Celebration happening now and celebrate all the happiness we make together! From gorgeous décor, Characters in vibrant outfits, parades, pyrotechnics, special treats and merchandise, the Celebration is a once-in-a-lifetime event you'll want to share with family and friends. "This celebration is pure fun," says David Caranci, Manager, Creative Development, Walt Disney Imagineering. "The entire Disneyland® Resort turns into a playful, youthful party." Visit Disneyland.com/70 to learn more about all the festivities you'll enjoy during the anniversary.

IMMERSED IN HAPPINESS

Get in the spirit and commemorate the beginning of your visit with a photo opportunity at the imaginative, 50-foot-tall Music Box structure located in the esplanade between Disneyland® Park and Disney California Adventure® Park. Inspired by Sleeping Beauty Castle, the structure features towers representing the earliest Lands in Disneyland® Park. "It ties the storytelling of the Park together in one gorgeous piece," Caranci says. As you enter the Park, you'll find another special photo opportunity to commemorate your visit in Town Square on Main Street, U.S.A., where festoons, banners and swags of bunting lend a festive air. Sleeping Beauty Castle features a beautiful 70th Celebration brooch medallion and banners and fabrics in vibrant colors. "It's almost like a piece of art," Caranci says. At Disney California Adventure® Park, Buena Vista Street is dressed up to celebrate with vivid banners, bunting and flags. Carthay Circle Theatre is decorated like a red-carpet opening night with nightly projections from beloved films on the façade. The whimsical décor is extended throughout Downtown Disney® District, and the Hotels of the Disneyland® Resort, adding a splash of color to every moment of your visit. "We have created a look that's fun and evokes happiness," Caranci says. "We want Guests to feel immersed in the spirit of the Celebration."

TWO PARADES AND A CAVALCADE

Experience the eagerly-awaited return of the radiant Paint the Night parade, full of favorite Characters and dancers brilliantly lit up by over a million twinkling lights. Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse and friends appear in their festive attire and Tinker Bell has an all-new look, sparkling with pixie dust. The lively theme song—"Celebrate Happy"—will have toes tapping during the parade's finale. "The Celebrate Happy song is so upbeat and joyful, it just gets into your heart," says Jennifer Magill, Executive Producer.

During the day, take time to enjoy the Celebrate Happy Cavalcade on Main Street, U.S.A., in Disneyland® Park. The Cavalcade features a colorful new float with Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse. Duffy and ShellieMay appear as well in their 70th outfits. "It's so upbeat and lively,” Magill says. “We had a lot of fun creating it, and I think Guests will love it.”

At Disney California Adventure® Park, something we all love to celebrate—friendship—is honored with the returning parade: Better Together: A Pixar Pals Celebration! featuring over 30 beloved Pixar Characters. “Friendships are such a key theme in Pixar storytelling,” says Kristin Peterson, Producer, Disney Live Entertainment at Disneyland® Park. “I love the spirit of this parade. It is a joyful, feel-good experience.”

Add some pixie dust to your memories with the new Cardmember pin featuring Tinker Bell! Available at select locations throughout the Parks. See page 22 for details.

FIREWORKS, LIGHT SHOWS AND SPECTACLES

The Wondrous Journeys fireworks spectacular returns to Disneyland® Park on select nights, lighting up the sky and transforming Sleeping Beauty Castle, Main Street, U.S.A., the façade of “it’s a small world” and the fountains on Rivers of America into canvases for decades of iconic Disney storytelling. “Every Disney animated film is represented,” Magill says. “It’s a journey through the heart of Disney storytelling and what it has meant to all of us.” The façade of “it’s a small world” lights up with Tapestry of Happiness, a new projection show paying homage to Disneyland® Park. “It’s designed in the style of legendary artist, Mary Blair”, Magill explains, “and it incorporates things you have experienced at Disneyland® Park over the years: various shows, the train and its iconic whistle, parades and attractions.”

A KALEIDOSCOPE OF HAPPINESS

You won’t want to miss the all-new World of Color Happiness! show, presented by PANDORA® Jewelry, at Disney California Adventure® Park—where fountains, lights and song combine to create an exhilarating celebration of happiness.

The Characters from Inside Out 2 are your guides through a spectacular display of lights, fountains and music. “Creating this new show was a fascinating journey for the creative team,” Magill says. “We asked ourselves ‘what does happiness mean?’ and realized that you can’t be happy if you haven’t experienced all the emotions, which of course, made the Characters from Inside Out 2 perfect!” Magill is also excited about the preshow which stars the Muppets giving a hysterically funny safety announcement. A gorgeous new rendition of the beloved song, “The Rainbow Connection,” performed by Boys II Men, begins and ends the show with an emotional message of hope, dreams and happiness.

“Throughout the Disneyland® Resort, we have taken the emotion of happiness and made it a multi-sensory experience of sights and sounds,” Magill concludes. “We are so excited to Celebrate Happy with our Guests during this remarkable time at the Disneyland® Resort. And the best part? We’re not done creating happiness yet!”, she says.

DOUBLE YOUR VIEWING
FUN THIS SUMMER

FREAKIER FRIDAY

IN THEATERS AUGUST 8TH

Oh no! Not again! Twenty-two years ago, Tess (Jamie Lee Curtis) and Anna (Lindsay Lohan) endured an identity crisis. Now Anna is all grown up, a single mother with a teenage daughter and a soon-to-be-stepdaughter. And then, lightning strikes twice. Can something that's already freaky get freakier? Yes, indeed. Four times as much.

"Traditionally, Freaky Friday has been a mother-daughter switch," says Kristin Burr, producer. "In the first film, the characters were on opposing teams. This time, we wanted them to both be teenagers and on the same team. When our writer pitched a four-way switch, we knew we had something."

The premise of switching identities remains the same, and in some ways, so does their relationship. "They still know how to push each other's buttons," Burr says. "We watch the characters test their boundaries, learn to compromise and find their own voices. They also make mistakes and have to face the consequences."

Those consequences can be very, very amusing and sometimes very touching! "There's a hysterical scene when Jamie and Lindsay as teenagers are visiting Anna's high school crush, Jake (Chad Michael Murray) in his record store," Burr says. "And there are at least three moments that make me tear up in the third act. Jamie and Lindsay are both so smart and funny! They each really wanted to go for it comedically, and they did! They pitched comedic set pieces for themselves and for each other. It made filming so much fun!"

"It was so great to get the gang back together with the cast and with my fellow producer, Andrew Gunn, and executive producer, Ann Marie Sanderlin," Burr concludes. "The 2003 film meant a lot to us. We really tried hard to live up to it. And this film delivers. I hope the audience enjoys watching it as much as we did making it."

THE FANTASTIC FOUR: FIRST STEPS

IN THEATERS JULY 25TH

How do you costume the "protectors of the world?" Especially when their new adventure, The Fantastic Four: First Steps is set in a 1960s-inspired retro yet futuristic world. We asked costume designer Alexandra Byrne for insights into how she and her team created designs that captured the characters' essence, the story and their world.

DRESSING SUPERHEROES

"The starting point is always the script," Byrne explains. "Director Matt Shakman was very clear about his vision of 1960s New York City in a parallel universe." Next, Byrne created mood boards—collages of inspirational images. Once the design direction was refined, Byrne worked with concept artists to develop the actual costumes, researching '60s fashions in Europe and the United States, as well as technological inspirations. "Working on the space suits and the life support systems was a breakthrough moment in terms of the retro future style; it is a balance of retro engineering and shiny new aspirations," she says.

SHADES OF BLUE

No detail was overlooked, down to the specific colors. "We spent hours over the dye vats, working out the varying tones and shades in a palette of blues. It's a painstaking process but so exciting," Byrne says. "The entire process is an adrenalized chase to capture the essence of the film." Perhaps you could say that when it comes to capturing the personality of the characters and story in fabric, color, line and style, Byrne and her team are Super Heroes, too!

MICKEY MOUSE CLUBHOUSE+

ARRIVES ON DISNEY JR. AND DISNEY+ THIS SUMMER

NEW ADVENTURES. SAME GREAT FUN!

“Hot diggity dog!” Mickey Mouse Clubhouse+ will debut on Disney Jr. and Disney+ this summer, offering preschoolers the chance to join Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse and their friends for all-new adventures, games, problem-solving, songs and lots of laughs. Rob LaDuca, who executive produced the original Emmy Award-winning series and is back as Executive Producer on the new iteration, is particularly thrilled by the updated state-of-the-art computer-generated animation. “The animation is so fluid and smooth,” he exclaims. “It’s enabled us to create better movement and more subtle facial expressions. It’s beautiful!”

The show is also full of surprises including a never-before-seen level of the Clubhouse called the Laughing Loft where Mickey Mouse and his friends hang out, play games and laugh together, as well as Clubhouses for each member of the gang. “We had a particularly great time designing Minnie Mouse and Donald Duck’s Clubhouses,” LaDuca says. “Minnie’s is shaped like one of her shoes, while Donald’s has a more nautical theme.”

A BRAND-NEW PAL

An adorable new friend, “Little Helper,” has joined the fun. “He’s so cute,” LaDuca says. “He tries his best to help, but he’s still young so he makes mistakes that sometimes get him into mischief. He’s a bit like a preschooler himself, so I think youngsters will love him. I’ve been involved with “Mickey Mouse Clubhouse” since its first season,” LaDuca continues. “This new version is very engaging, with more great lessons for kids and a lot of fun, original music woven in (as well as hits like the ‘Hot Dog!’ song). It’s great fun to bring another generation of little ones into the Clubhouse world. After all, Mickey Mouse is the best friend anyone could want!”

THE FUN IS STARTING RIGHT NOW!

TUNE IN FOR A NEW SEASON OF PHINEAS AND FERB NOW AVAILABLE ON DISNEY CHANNEL JUNE 5TH AND DISNEY+ JUNE 6TH

Every kid loves summer vacation, but stepbrothers Phineas and Ferb may squeeze more inventive excitement out of their “104 days of summer,” than any other kids in the world. Now, the show’s cast of popular characters are back for more hilarity beginning on Disney Channel and on Disney+. We had the opportunity to chat with Co-Creators and Executive Producers, Dan Povenmire and Jeff “Swampy” Marsh about the new season of the Emmy Award-winning series, their inspiration for the show and its characters.

“We tapped into our childhoods,” Marsh said. “Both Dan and I had parents who were very supportive about us having open-ended, creative playtime. So, we asked ourselves, ‘what would two nine-year-old boys be up to if they weren’t hampered?’ We wanted to create a show that captured that same carefree attitude.”

The show became the most watched animated series on Disney+, due not only to its humor and originality, but also to a cast of unique characters not the least of which is—a platypus. Marsh explains, “We wanted to weave action-adventure into the stories. We also wanted to create a character no one else had done. We thought, ‘well, no one’s ever done a platypus. And since they’re sort of a strange creature, you can make up funny stuff about them.” Hence, the creation of Perry the Platypus. Perry leads a double life as suave double Agent P, who works with Major Monogram, voiced by Marsh. And since every double agent needs an arch enemy, enter Dr. Heinz Doofenshmirtz, voiced by none other than Povenmire, himself. “I was on a trip to France with my wife when Doofenshmirtz’s very first spoken line came to me,” he recalls. “Oh, Perry the Platypus, what an unexpected surprise, and by unexpected, I mean completely expected!” And with that, the legacy of evil genius inventors just added a new—and ridiculously funny—member to its ranks!

The same relationships, humor and action prevail in the show’s new season—and then some. “We’ve amped it up,” Marsh says. “There are many ‘tentpole’ episodes people will remember.” To paraphrase the show’s theme song, “the fun is starting right now!”
