CELEBRATE THE SPIRIT OF HAWAII

AULANI
A Disney RESORT & SPA, HAWAII

Join in the spirit of 'ohana at AULANI, A Disney Resort & Spa by redeeming your Disney Rewards Dollars for authentic experiences inspired by the beauty and culture of the Islands.⁴

SHOP FOR MEMENTOS

Take home a keepsake made in Hawai'i, like a tote bag that features adorable prints with Hawaiian motifs. At Kālepa's Store, children will love taking home their own little 'Olu Mel stuffed plush, an adorable green sea turtle wearing a pāpale (hat) or a puakenikeni lei.

WAVES OF RELAXATION

Treat yourself to a relaxing time at the Laniwai Spa with the Signature Lomilomi, a traditional treatment which uses a lomilomi stick and warm river stones. A variety of spa products are also available including fragrant bath salt made on Maui.

A TASTE OF HAWAII

Island-inspired recipes are offered through all the AULANI restaurants, but don't miss tucking into the Pu'a Kālua Gratin at The 'Ōlelo Room. Kalua pig is a staple in Hawaiian cuisine, traditionally prepared in an 'imu, an in-ground oven. The meat is so tender and succulent that the Pu'a Kālua Gratin is even a hit with young picky eaters. The flavorful teriyaki chicken served at KA WA'A—A Lū'au is also a hit with those who have selective tastes.

CRAFT A MEMORY

Among the many activities available throughout the Resort, be sure to visit the Pau Hana Room for Kāpala Kīi. Here, you'll discover how native Hawaiians created kapa—traditional bark cloth—using stamped designs to tell stories and share history. Participants can create their own designs, then stamp their artwork onto an item of their choice, such as a t-shirt or canvas tote. And if water experiences are your thing, redeem your Disney Rewards Dollars for snorkeling equipment at Rainbow Reef where you'll see a colorful variety of fish native to Hawai'i.⁶

Say "Aloha" to even more enchantment when you redeem your Disney Rewards Dollars toward these activities.⁶ You can combine them with perks at AULANI Resort. Visit DisneyRewards.com/Aulani to learn more.

EXPLORING THE GALÁPAGOS ISLANDS

WITH AN EXPEDITION LEADER WITH NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC-LINDBLAD EXPEDITIONS

When exploring by sea, an Expedition Leader brings the world to life in unique ways while experts share their knowledge and passion. We spoke with one of those experts—Socrates Tomala, an Expedition Leader for the immersive Galápagos voyages, who shared his love of the islands and his delight in introducing travelers to their natural beauty and wonder.

CRAFTING EACH EXPEDITION

Tomala, who holds degrees in marine biology and environmental management, was raised on Santa Cruz Island located in the heart of the Galápagos Archipelago, so he has experience from a young age in understanding and appreciating this unique part of the world. “I enjoy my work as an Expedition Leader,” he says. “I enjoy creating expeditions that connect with people on a personal level, including Guests’ needs, expectations and interests as well as age and activity level. So, each expedition varies. We also keep each group small so that there is not so much pressure on the animals and Guests can enjoy a more intimate experience.”

UNEXPECTED WONDERS

Since nature’s inhabitants can’t be “scheduled,” to appear, each expedition may result in unusual sightings. Among the many animals nature lovers may see are rare penguin species, sea lions, blue-footed boobies, and, of course, giant tortoises. “I would venture to say that there is a 99.9% chance of seeing a giant tortoise,” Tomala laughs. “They don’t move very fast!”

But there are also moments of unplanned wonder. Tomala shared a recent one. “We were about to take a hike to see the Galápagos Waved Albatross,” he recalls. As we were setting out on the boat, we were suddenly joined by a pod of dolphins. There were easily 200 dolphins, leaping 10 feet out of the water and making loud, high-pitched calls. They were fully aware of and very curious about us—especially the babies. Seeing them was a ‘gift’ to us all that day! I love sharing the Galápagos with others,” Tomala says. “It’s a powerful place. Being able to help others experience it, is a privilege.”

Expand your horizons and enjoy saving while you discover the world. For more information about expedition cruising with National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions, visit NatGeoExpeditions.com/Cruise.

ADVENTURE GUIDES

FOR YOUR TRAVELS

Iconic destinations, carefully curated experiences for all ages, elegant accommodations and excellent cuisine are all hallmarks of an Adventures by Disney® vacation. However, one of the most important elements that sets your experience apart are the Adventure Guides who bring their expertise, enthusiasm and Disney-level service to ensure your trip is relaxing, enjoyable and rich in memories.

“Adventure Guides are the primary Guest service providers,” explains Loz Street, Guide Operations Manager Adventures by Disney®. “They take care of everything from luggage to activity reservations. Your only job is to relax.”

MAKING SPECIAL MOMENTS HAPPEN

“The other part of the Adventure Guides expertise is the entertainment,” adds Street. “Our Guides love to connect on a very personal level to ensure Guests enjoy the experiences they want from the trip: Whether it’s quality family time, giving the children in your family the chance to meet and have fun with other kids on the vacation or helping your family revisit and connect with your shared heritage, our Adventure Guides are very skilled at finding small ways to make it happen.”

Adventure Guides accompany Guests on the adventures they’ve chosen. “They go with the group to share every activity and even every meal. They’re not just escorting the family, they’re engaged in the adventure,” Street says. “They are also very empowered to make ‘magical moments’ happen on the trip. For instance, one might say to their Guests, ‘I noticed you have a ‘sweet tooth.’ Let me take you to my favorite ice cream shop.’ Or ‘I see you want to have a morning jog. I’ll show you a great place to run.’”

“Half of our Adventure Guides are from the United States, so they bring a great perspective as fellow Americans, understanding what U.S. families might be curious about, helping to bridge cultural differences and offering insights that relate directly to Guests’ own experiences.” Street explains. “The other half are local guides to each destination, so they can make recommendations for places to explore in Guests’ free time.”

“They also make sure our young Junior Adventurers engage in activities created especially for them so they can meet other kids, have fun and hopefully learn about the destination. We arrange some events for kids so adults can enjoy a meal together.”

TAKING EXPERIENCES TO THE NEXT LEVEL

Street, who has served as an Adventure Guide herself, says she has had many special moments with her Guests. “One of them was teaching a youngster to ride a bike for the first time around Versailles,” she recalls. “Can you imagine returning home and telling your friends about that! As an Adventure Guide, you can take experiences to the next level and be part of some very special moments.”

“Because of our close interaction with Guests, Adventure Guides build relationships and often make friends for life. I think it’s one of the most special jobs you can do as a Disney Cast Member,” says Street.

To learn more about upcoming and current itineraries, visit AdventuresbyDisney.com. Then let your sense of adventure guide you. Remember, Cardmembers enjoy a promotional APR of 0% for 6 months on select Disney vacation packages from the date of purchase with your Disney Visa Card. GO WILD WITH DISNEY AND PIXAR'S HOPPERS IN THEATERS MARCH 6TH

Have you ever wondered what animals are thinking? If you've dreamed of bridging the communication gap between animal and human minds, Disney and Pixar's all-new animated comedy adventure Hoppers gives a delightful look at what might happen.

The wild, new adventure introduces Mabel (Piper Curda), an animal lover who seizes an opportunity to use a new technology that enables people to "hop" human consciousness into lifelike robotic animals, allowing them to communicate directly with animals as animals. When Mabel "hops" into the body of a robotic beaver, she begins to uncover mysteries within the animal world beyond anything she ever imagined.

A UNIQUE PROTAGONIST

Of all the remarkable wildlife that could have been chosen for Mabel's robotic form, the storytellers chose an animal that some may find surprising—a beaver. As animation supervisor Alon Winterstein explains, "Beavers are fascinating. In real life, they have an enormous beneficial impact on the environment. Once they create their home, their work enables the habitats for other species to develop or even regenerate." In addition, Winterstein points out, "Beavers are very social, they create and exist within a community. Community is a big message in Hoppers."

WORKING LIKE BEAVERS

Animating beavers posed a few challenges for the animation team. "They have a round body and short legs and arms," Winterstein explains. "Plus, they are a brown animal in a more-or-less brown environment. We had to 'work like beavers' ourselves to design them so their emotions, expressions and movements were clear for audiences. We also created two distinct points of view: what the animals see when they look at each other or at humans and what humans see when they look at the animals. We're introducing the audiences to two different perspectives and it adds a lot to the humor of the story."

LEARNING FROM SPECIALISTS

Specialists visited Pixar and gave several presentations about beavers and their environments. Many of their insights made it into the film. "For instance, we learned that baby beavers will latch onto the mother's tail and 'surf' behind her. We also learned that beavers can walk on two legs and can carry stuff. That was very helpful. We used the two-legged stance a lot because it made the animals more humanistic."

In addition to the beavers, the film is replete with fascinating animal characters. It's nature, after all. "It was fun to watch Titus the Caterpillar (Dave Franco) come to life, Winterstein says. "And it was clear from the start that Tom Lizard (Tom Law) was going to be a star."

Winterstein continues, "I've loved this movie from the beginning: the humor, the world, the design. Seeing the characters starting to come to life and showing personality is amazing. The comedy of the world, the understanding of animals, the variety of animals and how much you get to explore is so exciting. Then there are the unique characters, the crazy situations and unexpected moments—the story has a lot of twists and turns. It's all simply charming."

The 200 Disney Rewards Dollars will be issued for the Anniversary Year in which the transaction posts to your account. For example, if you make a Qualifying Purchase, but the transaction does not post until after your current Anniversary Year ends, the cost of the purchase will be allocated toward the following Anniversary Year’s Disney Rewards Dollar bonus.

$100 Statement Credit on U.S. Disney Theme Park Tickets Spend Each Anniversary Year: You will receive a $100 statement credit automatically applied to your account after $200 in Qualifying Purchases each Anniversary Year. Qualifying Purchases are when you use your Disney Inspire Visa Card to purchase U.S. Disney Theme Park tickets (including Walt Disney World® Annual Passes, DisneyLand® Magic Key Passes and Disney Water Park Tickets) directly with Disney (including through Disney operated websites, apps or call centers). Disney Theme Park tickets purchased as part of Disney Vacation Packages will not qualify. “Anniversary Year” means the year beginning with your credit card account open date through the anniversary of your credit card account open date, and each 12 months after that. For accounts that switch to the Disney Inspire Visa Card, the account open date is the date the switch is official in the Chase system. Please allow 6 to 8 weeks after Qualifying Purchases post to your account for the statement credit to post to your account. The statement credit will be issued for the Anniversary Year in which the transaction posts to your account. For example, if you make a Qualifying Purchase, but the transaction does not post until after your current Anniversary Year ends, the cost of the purchase will be allocated toward the following Anniversary Year’s statement credit.

Redeem Disney Rewards Dollars with Pay Yourself Back® for the Disney Visa Card: Disney Rewards Dollars may be redeemed for a statement credit using Pay Yourself Back toward purchases made with your Disney Visa Card at select U.S. Disney Locations in Disney Parks and Resorts (for a list of Disney locations, visit DisneyRewards.com/Where-To-Redeem), Disney Store and outlet locations in the U.S., DisneyStore.com, and at DisneyPlus.com, Hulu.com and plus.espn.com, within 90 days from the purchase date. Disney Rewards Dollars cannot be redeemed for a statement credit using a Disney Rewards Redemption Card. Categories, eligible merchants, and purchase transaction eligibility may change from time to time without notice. Even though a merchant or some of the items that it sells may appear to fit within a rewards category, the merchant may not have a merchant code in that category. When this occurs, purchases with that merchant won’t qualify for rewards offers on purchases in that category. Each Disney Rewards Dollar you redeem for a statement credit toward qualifying purchases with Pay Yourself Back is worth $1.00 (one U.S. dollar), which means that 1.00 Disney Rewards Dollar equals $1.00 in redemption value. Redemptions require a minimum of .01 Rewards Dollar and a maximum of 12 purchases and/or transactions selected in a single order. Statement credits will post to the card account within 3 business days of a request to redeem and will appear on the monthly Chase credit card billing statement within 1-2 billing cycles. Statement credits will reduce your balance, but you are still required to make at least your minimum monthly payment. Disney and Chase reserve the right to determine which Disney Visa Card purchases qualify for a statement credit. Rewards Dollars redeemed for statement credits cannot be returned or re-deposited. Pay Yourself Back may be discontinued at any time.
